#4 Financial planning. Create your own finance plan

In corporate accounting, the breakeven point (BEP) formula is determined by dividing the total fixed cost associated with production by the revenue per individual unit minus the variable costs per unit. In this case, fixed costs refer to those that do not change depending upon the number of units sold. Put differently, the breakeven point is the production level at which total revenues for a product equal total expenses.

$$\textit{Break Even Point} = \frac{\textit{Fixed Cost}}{(\textit{Sales Price per Unit} - \textit{Variable Cost per Unit})}$$

Formula 1.1.

Calculate the break-even volume of your project idea (excel)

- 1. Identify the total fixed cost (e.g., for production machinery) related to your project.
- 2. Identify the variable cost (e.g., for supplies and material) per unit produced/sold.
- 3. Identify your revenues per unit sold on the basis of an assumed market price of your product/service.
- 4. Calculate the delta between the revenue and variable cost per unit (=contribution margin).

- 5. Calculate the break-even volume on the basis of the break-even formula.
- 6. Change the assumed market price to assess the impact of the market price on the break-even volume.
- 7. Show the break-even volume in a graph.
